Charlotte Street Foundation and Mobank announce 2018 Artboards artists

Kansas City, MO, December 6, 2017: The Charlotte Street Foundation, alongside Mobank and with support from Outfront Media, are happy to announce the artist selections for the 2018 “Artboards” series. The 2018 Artboards artists are the Argot/Nots (Logan Acton & Meghan Skevington), Johnny B/Imagine That, Jessica Kincaid, Dylan Mortimer, Steve Snell, Larry Thomas, Bernadette Torres, and Annie Woodfill. For more information about Mobank’s Artboards series, visit www.charlottestreet.org to read about the selection process and to learn how you can apply next year.

Ben Rosenthal, a Kansas City-based artist who was commissioned for an Artboard in 2017, states that the Artboard experience for an artist “is really strange and exciting... It is weird to see your work in this context because a lot of my work happens privately or is exhibited far away from me in places I don’t to get visit.”

The artists will exhibit their commissioned images on the exterior, double-sided billboards rising above Mobank at 125 Southwest Boulevard in Kansas City, Missouri. The Artboards will be visible to the public all hours of the day, and will remain on view for three months.

ABOUT THE ARTBOARDS

The Mobank Artboards launched fall 2008, when the building's existing double-sided billboards were renovated and converted into a highly visible site for work by area artists as part of the Bank's purchase and renovation of the building to house its Crossroads Branch. Mobank's purpose for donating the Artboards to local artists isn't about sales or promotion, but is solely intended to make the creative Crossroads community in Downtown Kansas City more interesting by sharing local art. Charlotte Street Foundation administers the programming of the Artboards. Artists are selected in collaboration with Mobank representatives.
