

Thank you for considering donating to Project Cup! Visitors have until October 11 to drop-off donations at the Charlotte Street Kemper Library (3333 Wyoming St). For questions, email caseywhittier@gmail.com.

- Rubber bands
- Popsicle sticks
- Pipe cleaners
- Paper plates
- Vinyl or stickers
- Permanent markers
- Air drying glass paint or paint pens
- Mugs or Cups (plastic, ceramic, glass)
- Fun, small items (i.e. gems, legos, objects)
- Tape (i.e. masking, duct tape, painters, decorative)
- Malleable wire, rope, yarn
- Zip Ties
- Super glue
- Quick curing epoxy
- Utility knives and blades
- Disposable gloves

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

In A Community Effort to Re-Investigate the Cup, Castañeda invites you to slide down the scale toward absurdity, expanding the notions of the cup, and making exciting discoveries along the way.

Participants will work from the perspective of researchers, breaking down cups into their essential components and assembling them into original works of art. Like building characters in a video game, attendees will reconstruct their cups using ceramics, found objects, and adhesive materials (glue, string, tape, but not screws), expanding the ceramic process beyond the “final” glaze firing. The resulting cups may serve as functional vessels, or they may become prototypes for ongoing exploration.